EXPERIENCE

14 years of teaching experience, including 5 years as Head of English and 4 years as Assistant Headteacher. Dedicated to empowering students to excel in English. Through "Strive for 5" conferences nationwide, I've championed Grade 5 attainment. I actively collaborate with schools to support GCSE English success and offer guidance through my YouTube channel.

About me

○ What motivates you to work hard?

Someone once told me that success is made up of 1% luck and 99% sweat. To be successful it takes hard work and determination. Being successful is the best feeling the world. It's this feeling that motivates me.

○ Who is your hero?

Alan Turing. His contributions lead to the breaking of the German Enigma machine, an achievement that sees him chosen as the face of the £50 note. Despite his remarkable achievements, as a gay man Turing was prosecuted because of his sexuality in 1952.

○ What is your proudest accomplishment?

In education it is being able to oversee the quality of education in a school and observe young people succeed and achieve. There is no better feeling. Before teaching I was a radio presenter and was incredibly proud to be on air on one of the UK's biggest commercial radio stations. I recently ventured back into presenting and am proud to be the host of weekend commercial radio shows. My proudest accomplishment though is my son.

○ If you could choose to do anything for a day, what would it be?

Lie on a beach with a good book.

○ If you could go back in time, what year would you travel to?

I'm tempted to say 2009 so that I can buy lots of bitcoin, but would more than likely go around 50 million years ago to experience life before humans.

○ If you could share a meal with 4 individuals, living or dead, who would they be?

William Shakespeare, Kylie Minogue, Alan Turing, Robin Williams

○ Do you have a life motto? If so, what is it?

Don't dream it, be it!

○ If you could join any past or current music group, which would you want to join?

The Spice Girls. They were massive and it looked like they had the most fun!
